Obligations

- Confidential information means non-public information disclosed by the Client in any form, including business, technical, financial and personal data, whether or not marked confidential.
- Use. The Freelancer uses confidential information only for the purpose above and protects it with at least reasonable care.
- Sharing. The Freelancer shares it only with its employees and advisers who need to know and are bound by similar duties.
- Exclusions. Information that is public without breach, already known lawfully, independently developed or received from a third party without restriction is not covered.
- Required disclosure. If law or a court requires disclosure, the receiving party gives prompt notice (where allowed) and discloses only what is required.

- Return. On request or at the end of the term, confidential information is returned or deleted, except copies kept by law or in routine backups, which stay confidential.
- No licence. No right to any IP is granted, and information is shared "as is".
- Remedies. Damages may not be enough for a breach, so the disclosing party may seek an injunction in addition to other remedies.
- Portfolio. The Freelancer may not show confidential work in a portfolio without written consent.
- Tools. The Freelancer does not paste confidential information into public AI tools or unapproved cloud services.
