- Rent. Rent is paid in advance by the due date each month. A late fee of ₹100 per day may apply after 7 days' delay.

- Utilities. The Tenant pays electricity, water, gas and internet bills for the term as per meter readings recorded at move-in.
- Repairs. The Tenant handles minor repairs (bulbs, taps, fuses). The Landlord handles structural repairs, seepage and major plumbing or electrical faults.
- Access. The Landlord may visit with 24 hours' notice at reasonable times, or at once in an emergency.
- Subletting. The Tenant does not sublet or share the premises with anyone not named, without written consent.
- Police verification. The Tenant cooperates with the tenant police verification required by local rules.
- Alterations. No structural changes, painting or drilling beyond normal fittings without consent.
- Handover. At the end of the term the Tenant hands back the premises clean and in the condition received, with all keys.
- Inventory. The Tenant checks the inventory at move-in; missing or damaged items at move-out are deducted at their depreciated value.
- Appliances. Appliance faults from normal use are repaired by the Landlord; damage from misuse is the Tenant's cost.

Initials

Stamp duty and registration. Rent agreements of up to 11 months usually need only stamp duty (paid by e-stamp or franking) under the state Stamp Act. Leases of more than 11 months generally must be registered under the Registration Act, 1908 and attract higher stamp duty. Pay the applicable duty before signing: an unstamped agreement may not be accepted as evidence.
