Risks of the activity

White-water rafting carries real risks, even with trained staff and good equipment. They include:

- Falling out of the raft into fast, cold water
- Being trapped under the raft, against rocks or in a hydraulic
- Hitting rocks, paddles or other rafters
- Hypothermia and swallowing water

Rules

1. Wear the life jacket and helmet, fastened, for the whole run.
2. Attend the safety briefing and follow the guide's paddle commands.
3. Hold the T-grip of your paddle at all times.
4. No alcohol before or during the run.
5. If you fall out, float feet first downstream and wait for the rescue line.

☐ I will follow them and any instruction from the staff. Staff may stop me from taking part if a rule is broken.

Assumption of risk and release

- I take part voluntarily and accept the risks described above, as well as risks that cannot be foreseen.
- To the extent the law allows, I release the rafting operator, its staff and volunteers from claims for injury, illness, loss or damage arising from my participation, except claims caused by their gross negligence or wilful misconduct.
- I will compensate the organiser for loss caused by my own breach of the rules or deliberate damage to equipment or property.
- In an emergency, the staff may arrange first aid, transport and medical treatment for me. I will pay the reasonable costs that insurance does not cover.
- Nothing in this release limits any liability that cannot be excluded under Indian law, including the Consumer Protection Act, 2019.
